MUCH PROSPECTING IN THIS VICINITY

Fancy War Prices Cause Many Fluor Spar Mines to Be Reopened in This County

War prices on lead and zinc ores and fluor spar have caused a big revival of mining throughout Crittenden and Livingston counties where are large deposits of these minerals. Mines which had been abandoned years ago because the low prices of the minerals made them unprofitable, are being reopened and worked to capacity. Much prospecting is also being done for new mines and if the present prices continue, and every indication is that they will, still further activity is assured. Outside capital is already being attracted and some permanent investments have been made.

The old Franklin mine has been bought by an Illinois concern and has not only been opened and worked hard but they have erected on the surface a complete crushing and washing plant through which the ore goes the minute it is hoisted from the bottom of the shaft. This mine is primarily a fluor spar deposit of wonderful thickness and high grade.

Considerable lead is "jiggered" out and which is an important part of the operations. The mine is six miles from Marion, the shipping point, and two 7-ton trucks have been bought to haul the crushed spar to the cars. Each of these trucks can deliver forty to fifty tons in Marion per day, or a car load each. There are two other crushing and separating plants in Marion which handle the output of the other mines of that section except that which is shipped in the rough.

Still another reason for the increased demand and higher prices of fluor spar is that it is being used for so many different things now. It is the base from which acids are made and it is being used in various ways as fluoride in the making of chemicals. A large manufacturing concern in the north whose business was ruined by the war has turned to making a fluoride which is claimed to be a splendid preservative of railroad cross ties and all sorts of timber exposed to the weather or sunken in the ground.

Vote For Edward D Stone

For County Attorney

In response to solicitations from many friends, I announced last January as a candidate for the office of County Attorney.

If nominated and elected I will, as I have always endeavored to do, give my entire time in performing the duties of this office and guarding the interest of the people as their attorney. I will be found in my office on every official day in the year rendering justice to every person.

I will diligently investigate and procure indictments against alleged violations of the law without favor.

As legal advisor of the Fiscal Court I will be cautious in advising the expenditure of the hard earned money of the taxpayers. I respectfully solicit the support of every Republican voter and promise, if elected, a cautious and efficient handling of the County Attorney affairs.

Republican primary, Saturday, August 4th, 1917.

Edward D. Stone.

ANNOUNCES FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. J. D. Threlkeld Appeals to The Democratic Voters of Crittenden and Livingston

To the Democrats of Livingston and Crittenden Counties:

Since making public my formal announcement for a seat in the Lower House of the General Assembly of Kentucky, the question of a constitutional amendment, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in this State, to be submitted to the people, has been brought to the front as one of the leading issues in the campaign. I deem it my privilege and duty therefore, to make known my views on this question, in order that the voters may be advised as to my position.

I favor and will vote for the submission of an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in Kentucky and will use whatever influence I have for the passage of the measure.

I shall also favor and vote for the passage of a law forbidding and prohibiting the shipment of intoxicating liquors from wet territory into dry territory in this State, thus bringing Kentucky under Federal protection like 21 other states are now, so that shipments of intoxicating liquors cannot go into dry territory from inside of this State, nor from other States.

Feeling a deep interest in the welfare of the people of both Counties among whom I have lived and served as a private citizen for many years, I deem it a great honor to humbly offer my services in the capacity of representative, and in making my appeal to the citizenry of this Legislative District, I wish to impress them with one central thought, that my energy, intellect and experience will be faithfully and honestly used in behalf of the people of my District.

My heart swells with emotion when solicitous friends in both counties offer me their support, and to repay them, I will render the best possible service in the halls of Legislation, if I shall be chosen.

I shall not be able to meet every voter, but will appreciate to the fullest, the vote and influence of all who may be so kind as to support me in the primary on the 4th day of August.

Respectfully,
Dr. J. D. Threlkeld.

Marion Girl In The Party

A delightful trip to Cairo, Ill. was made Monday by Miss Marie Hibbs and her house party in three automobiles. The party was composed of Misses Mary and Margaret Ross of Madisonville, Miss Gertrude Zinsmeister of New Albany, Ind., Misses Emma Owen Abell, Annette Nelson, Alberta Presnell of this place, Miss Virginia Blue of Marion and Miss Marie Hibbs; Messrs. Harry Abell, Davis Clopton, Hendrick Waynick, Alfred Rogers, Harry Dunn and Floyd Wilson. Mrs. L. C. Hibbs chaperoned the party, all returning in the evening.

ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

L. E. Guess Wants to be County
Clerk of Crittenden Again, Popular Man.

To the voters of Crittenden County.

In my race for County Court Clerk, I had hoped to be able to leave the office and see in person all of the voters of the county in order to present my claims, but I find that if I perform the duties of the office and render the service that the people elected me to do, and also do the additional work which these war conditions have imposed upon the office, it will be impossible for me to be out of the office for any considerable length of time.

As you are aware, the nation is in the midst of a terrible war, and under recent Act of Congress the nation is enlisting and equipping a vast army of men for service, and every county clerk's office in the union has been selected as a vital part of the machinery for enlisting that army. In obedience to the call of the nation, I have been almost constantly engaged in making out enlistment cards and copying them, for which I receive no pay and it will probably take another month to finish. Beside this, I am required, during this month, as commissioner, to make settlements with the Sheriff and County Treasurer. At the same time I must see to the preparation of the ballots and the proper working of all of the election machinery for the coming primary. I mention these facts so that the voters may see that there never was a time when the duties of the clerk's office were greater, and that I cannot very well make a house to house canvass of the county, and at the same time, serve the people as they have a right to expect me to do. As long as I am clerk I shall feel that my first duty is to the people, and that the work of the office must be done even to the sacrifice of my personal interests.

I am receiving most encouraging reports from all parts of the county and I am mighty grateful for the interest which these reports indicate that my friends are manifesting in my behalf.

In making this explanation, I desire to renew my promise that if reelected, I shall discharge the duties of my office, and serve every citizen of the county, regardless of condition or politics, and I believe that my past service has qualified me to render you still even better service than I have been able to do heretofore. On this pledge, I solicit your support in the coming primary election.

JOHN A. MOORE FOR CO. ATTORNEY

Takes This Method of Making
Known to Crittenden County
People His Announcement

To the Republican Voters of Crittenden County.

I take this method of announcing my self as a candidate for the republican nomination for the office of County Attorney.

For several months I have been urged by republicans from every section of the county to make this race, but have hesitated to do so, for the reason that my time is so occupied that it will be impossible for me to make a canvass of the county in order to secure the nomination.

In fact the salary of the office does not justify a person qualified to fill it, in making two canvasses of the county in order to secure the office. But if I was so situated that I could make a close canvass of the county, it would be a pleasure to me to see and talk to every republican in the county and discuss with them the duties of the county attorney. But this is impossible, as I have a crop of corn, tobacco and hay that must have my attention for the next two or three weeks and this renders it impossible for me to solicit personally the votes of the people; my name will appear upon the republican ballot in the primary election as a candidate for this office and if I am given the nomination I will make every honorable effort within my power to win in the final election.

In soliciting your vote in this matter, I refer you to my record as a practicing lawyer for the past 22 years; during all these years you have been in and around our courts and know the extent and success of my practice. Our court dockets show whether I have been actively engaged in the practice and the character of cases, I have had and the degree of success I have met with in my practice, in this way you may know the ability of every candidate for this office as their practice and the actual experience they have had becomes a matter of record.

The responsibilities of the office are such as to demand a lawyer well learned in the law and with actual experience in the practice.

Our county is now many thousand dollars in debt, in fact we have a bonded indebtedness of $22,000.00, besides a floating indebtedness of several thousand dollars.

Every appropriation made and every dollar spent by our county is paid on the advice of the county attorney, who by law is made the legal adviser of every county officer; hence it is important to you from a financial standpoint, that your county attorney be experienced and learned in his profession.

In announcing my self as a candidate for this office, I believe it my duty to state as far as possible what my course shall be if elected, and I now promise, that if I am nominated and elected to this office, that I will at all times be present when the Fiscal Court is in session, to advise the Magistrates upon any questions that may come before them.

I will stand for a strict enforcement of the penal laws of our state, but in doing this it will be my pleasure as well as

C. S. NUNN WRITES CARD

Another one of Marion's Boys in The Race For State Senator of Kentucky

Marion, Ky.,
July 3, 1917.

Mr. Editor:—

Please to announce my candidacy in your paper for the State Senate, and say that it is subject to the Democratic Primary in August.

I am making the race as a Democratic candidate, and if nominated will uphold the standard of Democracy, and will not be the figure head of any faction nor the spokesman of any set seeking special privileges within or without the party. If elected in November it will be my purpose to serve the people, and my course will be guided by what I conceive to be their best interest.

The world is now at war and freedom is the stake. Our honor, our liberty and lives are endangered. In this struggle to preserve the nation I believe it to be the duty of every official to cooperate with every governmental agency federal and state, charged with the responsibility of our defense, in the hope that the war may be brought to a speedy and successful termination.

I favor the submission to a vote of the people of a Constitutional amendment prohibiting the beverage liquor traffic in Kentucky, and I desire the question submitted in a simple, sensible form, without confusing conditions or offensive features attached, so that any voter when he has voted may know of a surety how he has voted.

C. S. Nunn.

"The wrongs against which we now array ourselves are no common wrongs." "The world must be made safe for democracy." "The right is more precious than peace."

"The natural sane line of the country most proceed as though we were not at war."

my duty, to see that every man charged with any offense is given a fair trial and a square deal.

As voters, you owe no man anything, but should select candidates because of their qualifications, and I only ask your support if you believe me as well or better qualified to protect your interests than any other candidate for the office.

If given this nomination and elected, I shall give my entire time and attention to the duties of the office, as well as the best talent I possess to faithfully and fairly represent the interests of the whole people of Crittenden County, without regard to politics, or any other matter, save and except to see that justice is done in every matter that shall come before me.

Consider this matter, vote for the one you believe best qualified to fill the office, and if in your judgement I am the one, I shall strive to make a fair, faithful, conscientious and efficient officer.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS HEARTBROKEN

Failure Of His Dream Of Peace To Come True, Robs Him Of His Reason.

New York—Andrew Carnegie known internationally as the Apostle of Peace, is a war casualty, bereft of reason and money, it became known today when it was learned Dr. Henry Smith Pritchett president of the Carnegie foundation, and one of Carnegie's closest friends, has been appointed conservator of the vast Carnegie funds.

Carnegie's reason has been dwindling since war began, but the condition of the old ironmaster has been guarded jealously. Quick, but cautiously, the power to give away money was taken from him. The appointment of Dr. Pritchett was without publicity.

Aged, penniless and heartbroken, the once powerful industrial monarch and apostle of peace sits in his castle home waiting the great armistice.

Closest friends are no longer recognized by Carnegie. Only now and then does he know Dr. Pritchett. Emperors, masters of finance, steel kings, these are but shadows now to a man who once mingled with them as a power.

New York pulsing around his palace is unobserved. The once level beauties of his Highland castle are forgotten.

Wife, waits the weary old voice over and over again, as Mrs. Carnegie tries to soothe him, has the war ended yet? When will peace come?

No man tried to do more for international peace than Carnegie. After the commission which he financed had reported on Balkan war atrocities he pledged himself to a world campaign against war.

When in the last days of July, 1914, Europe faced Armageddon Carnegie toiled like a Titan. As ultimatums flashed back and forth Carnegie worked, terse with anxiety. He was sending cables to ministers of state when Britain's midnight declaration of war against Germany reached him. Stricken to the heart, the veteran's pen dropped from his hand.

An hour later Mrs. Carnegie knelt by his side striving to comfort him. My great dream gone. My great dream gone, he moaned endlessly. If I could weep.

Weeks passed, with their invasion, rapine, atrocities, each falling upon him as a physical blow. The dream of my life is ended sobbed Carnegie.

"General paralysis," said the scientists, ordering no word of war spoken to the old ironmaster. They ordered quiet and change of scene.

Tenderly they brought Carnegie back home, bowed down with years and sorrow.

But almost from day to day his condition changed for the worse seldom did he show any interest in money getting or gift giving. War was the great burden of his brain.

How long will the war continue? he pleaded constantly and pitifully. I would give all I have my last dollar, to shorten hostilities by a week.

But the great fortune of the master of Bethlehem has slipped from his grasp. He is the man who was Andrew Carnegie, waiting now and then out of shadow. "Wife, when will the war end?"

PASTOR HAS DISAPPEARED

No Trace Of Whereabout Of The Princeton Christian Church Minister.

Princeton, Ky., July 4—This community has been startled by the strange disappearance of Dr. E. C. Craven, pastor of the Christian church, here. Dr. Craven came here a short time ago to accept the pastorate of the Christian church, and without divulging his intentions, he abruptly left the community and no one knows his whereabouts. All efforts at locating him have been futile. He left here in an automobile, while his wife and her little daughter were away from home on a visit of several days, ostensibly for the purpose of meeting them in Louisville. Upon their return here a note was found stating that when it was read he would probably be crossing the Atlantic. It has since been learned that he was registered for a day or so at the Tyler Hotel, Louisville.

Dr. Craven was formerly pastor of a church at Eminence, Ky. During his short pastorate of the Christian church here the church flourished and he was well liked by his congregation.

WHAT IS LAX-FOS

LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA
A DIGESTIVE LAXATIVE
CATHARTIC AND LIVER TONIC

Lax-Fos is not a Secret or Patent Medicine but is composed of the following old-fashioned roots and herbs:

CASCARA BARK
BLUE FLAG ROOT
BLACK ROOT
MAY APPLE ROOT
SENNA LEAVES AND PEPSIN

In Lax-Fos the Cascara is improved by the addition of these digestive ingredients making it better than ordinary Cascara, and thus the combination acts not only as a stimulating laxative and cathartic but also as a digestive and liver tonic. Syrup laxatives are weak, but Lax-Fos combines strength with palatability, aromatic taste and does not grip or disturb the stomach. One bottle will prove Lax-Fos is invaluable for Constipation, Indigestion or Torpid Liver. Price 50c.

His wife and her little daughter are still here.

A Louisville telegram says more than $1,000 in merchandise secured by the Rev. Mr. Cravens, is now missing.

Jewelry and other merchandise amounting in value of more than $1,000, it is alleged, was obtained from Louisville merchants by the Rev. E. C. Cravens, former pastor of the Christian church at Princeton, who disappeared leaving his bride without knowledge of his whereabouts. G. F. Geiger, vice president of James K. Lemon & Son, says the preacher obtained two diamond pendants valued at $875 from his concern on June 19.

In view of the fact that Cravens left Princeton, and that efforts to locate him have been unsuccessful, the merchants who extended credit are experiencing anxiety. The firms where he received goods and the amounts are as follows:

James K. Lemon & Son, $675; Rodas-Kapier, $70; Stewart Dry Goods Company, $66; H. P. Solomon Co., $60; Kaufman-Stevens Company, $54.60; Louis Appel Company, $45; Boston Shoe Co., $27; John C. Lewis Company, $20.50.

At some of the stores Craven met with no difficulty in obtaining merchandise as he had previously dealt there. G. F. Geiger of Lemon's says that the minister came there and stated he had noticed an advertisement of a special sale of diamonds. He selected two pendants, one valued at $300 and another worth $375. He said he wanted to take them to his wife for her approval and gave a bank at Eminence, Ky., where he formerly resided, as reference.

According to Mr. Geiger the firm called the Eminence bank and was told that the Rev. Mr. Cravens had recently married a wealthy woman and that his request to take the diamonds on approval seemed reasonable.

FOOD REGULATION BILL PASSES HOUSE

ADMINISTRATION BILL PASSED BY 365 TO 5 IN HOUSE—PROHIBITION AMENDMENT WINS.

HOOVER IS FOOD DICTATOR

Washington.—The administration food control bill, which makes Herbert C. Hoover virtually food dictator for the allies, is now squarely up to the senate.

The house, by a vote of 365 to 5, passed the measure Saturday night, after less than two weeks' debate. The five members who voted against the bill were McLemore, Slayden and Young of Texas, democrats; Meeker of Missouri and Ward of New York, republicans.

The house defeated a motion by "wets" to recommit the bill. It defeated also an amendment by Representative Lenoir of Wisconsin, increasing the $150,000,000 appropriation in the bill to $250,000,000. Lenoir declared the extra $100,000,000 would be necessary if the president is to commandeer and pay for intoxicants to be seized under the bill. He could not commandeer Lenoir said, without an increased appropriation.

An amendment that persons employed under the act shall not be exempt from the draft was adopted. An amendment to institute a farm risk insurance bureau was stricken out on a point of order.

DELAYS DRAFT OF GUARDS

National Guards May Not Be Called Into Federal Service Before August 5.

Washington.—Drafting of the national guard into the federal armies for war service may be delayed until Aug. 5 because it has been found that under the present plans for drafting the guard in three increments, July 15, July 25 and Aug. 5, the relative rank of its officers would be established on an unfair basis.

Its coming was welcomed with appropriate manifestations of joy and rejoicing through the medium of bells and cannon. The procession formed under direction of Capt. Thomas G. Buck, as chief marshal, with able assistants, at half-past ten on the green, near Tyler's Coffee house, and proceeded

NAMES EXEMPTION BOARDS IN STATES

THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF GOVERNORS, CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS FOLLOWED.

TO DRAW ARMY BY NUMBER

Washington.—By giant strides, the tremendous preparations for America's army are going forward. Without a hitch, the foundations for the army are being quickly laid.

The big outstanding developments of the provost marshal's office to date were: Award of contracts for the last three cantonment camps. With this action the 16 temporary homes for the first levy while in training for the trenches are under way.

Completion of the personnel of the local exemption boards of 36 states. Others will follow within a few days. Announcement of the method of formation and the duties of the local exemption boards.

Arrangement by the Council of National Defense with the textile manufacturers to furnish at once 50,000,000 yards of duck for tents and truck coverings.

Conference in the Council of National Defense with lumber magnates to arrange for furnishing hundreds of millions of feet of lumber for construction of camp buildings.

Conference with railroad officials to plan for quick transportation of men for the camps after draft and the national guard to their training camps.

Completion of the national guard to Aug. 5 to allow the completion of the draft before the guard must begin.

Order of manufacturers to furnish cloth for uniforms.

Arrangement to import 1,000,000 pairs of shoes for the army.

More than 1,000,000 pairs of shoes are being turned out in the busy months along the eastern seaboard. The woolen mills of New England are busily engaged in the manufacture of 5,000,000 pairs of socks. From the rolling steel furnaces of the middle west are being turned out millions of buttons. Other factories are turning out cartridges by millions. Still others are at work on the thousand and one articles of modern war fare.

RUSSIA NEEDS BIG ENGINES

With Motive Power to Move Foods and Manufactured Goods, Military Success is Sure.

Washington.—"Locomotives, two new ones and still more locomotives," are fundamental needs of Russia today, according to Prof. Lomonosoff, railroad minister with the Russian mission. "Quite frankly I can say to you, our American friends," he said, "give us locomotives and we shall give you military success."

Procession then moved to Rev. Mr. Nott's church. Order of exercises: 1. Select music, by the choir; 2. prayer by Rev. Mr. Pratt; 3. hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," etc., read by Rev. Mr. Emmons; 4. Declaration of Independence, by H. F. French, Esq.; 5. oration, by Jonathan Lewis Clark; 6. prayer, by Rev. Mr. Meade; 7. music, by the choir; 8. benediction, by Rev. Mr. Nott.

The procession was again formed and proceeded to the Washington house, where a splendid dinner was provided.

Citizenship Imposes Duty.

Citizens of a free nation owe a duty, not only to their country and themselves, but to the whole world—to humanity. There is hardly a moment in the life of any man when some sacrifice for liberty and free government is not called for. This is a true in peace as in war. The lesson is being pressed on the national conscience day as it has not been before for many years.

WOMEN'S NERVES

Women, more than men, have excitable nerves because tiring work and physical strain tax their more delicate nervous systems and bring premature age and chronic weakness—unless treated intelligently.

Drug-laden pills and alcoholic concoctions cannot build up a woman's strength, but the concentrated medicinal food properties in

IS YOUR STOMACH WRONG?

Sooner or later you will be wrong in every organ of your body. It is a well-known fact that over ninety-five per cent. of all sickness is caused by ailments of the digestive organs. If you have the slightest suspicion that your stomach requires treatment, don't delay a moment. Little ills soon grow into serious ills.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gets to work immediately at the seat of your trouble—the stomach. It lends a helping hand. Helps to digest the food. Tones up the stomach. Soon brings back normal conditions. Food is properly assimilated and turned into rich, red blood. Every organ is strengthened and every tissue re-vitalized.

The same good blood will cause pimples, acne, eczema and skin eruptions to dry up and disappear. It's an alternative tonic and body builder.

This tonic is a glyceric extract from roots taken from our great American forests. Try this remedy now. Sold by medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form—or send 50 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial box.

Covington, Ky.—"My parents in Norwood recommended me to use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I used them when troubled with headache and biliousness. I found they are just as advertised. They are fine and did just what I expected. I depend on them and consider them the best medicine of the kind I have ever used."—Mrs. JOSEPH BUNGER, 1214 Wheeler St.

A FREE BOOK

If you will send three dimes, or stamps, to pay for wrapping and mailing and enclose this notice, Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send you a revised copy of his Common Sense Medical Adviser, in cloth binding, 1008 pages, with color plates. Just what you need in case of sickness or accident. Treats of Physiology, Anatomy, Sex Problems, Marriage Relations, Hygiene, Exercise, Disease and its Prevention.

In Memoriam.

In memory of our loved Grandfather, who departed this life May 18th, 1917. It lacked only seven days being eight years since we parted with Grandmother.

Grandpa as we always called him, took a very severe cold and it developed into a stubborn case of Bronchitis, not allowing him scarcely any relief at all.

He was only bed fast a few days, when God in his infinite wisdom called him home to himself, wife, father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends. He was the last one of a family of twelve children, six boys and six girls.

Peter Ewing Shewmaker, Jr., so called after his father, was born Oct. 9, 1831, about one and one half miles north of Marion Crittenden County Kentucky. Excepting about twelve years of his single life in early manhood, he made this County his home and loved it very dearly.

Grandpa was a great financier. He left his home and loved ones, at the age of nineteen, with one dollar and twenty five cents in his pocket, for the Cottonwood Forest in the South, to cut cord wood for the steamboats that ran the Mississippi and Ohio rivers, at that time beats made their steam power by the use of wood instead of coal.

He did his work well and there by helped his aged parents to pay for their home. He was always independent afterwards. He traveled twelve years in the South and West and was in Kansas City at one time when there was just one house standing in the place which is now one of the largest cities of the middle west.

In 1871 Grandpa was married in the town of Cherokee Bay Arkansas, to Sarah Jane Duvall a half sister to Billy, Moton and Alongo Duvall, all of this County at present. Grandpa and Grandmother came from Arkansas in 1871, and settled on a farm five miles north of Marion in 1872 and lived a peaceful and happy life. The last eight years being very lonely as Grandmother preceded him almost that much to her home with Jesus.

Grandpa always went to church even before he united with it.

church at Crooked Creek, driving almost every nail in it himself. He lived a faithful member of that church almost forty years.

Grandpa was kind, affectionate and generous to all who knew him. No one was ever turned away when he could lend them a helping hand. He gave a home to nearly three times as many Orphan Children as he had children of his own. He had only three, two daughters and one son, Rosa E. Vaughan, Sarah E. Marvel and William D. Shewmaker all of whom reside in this county at present.

He was a dear good Grandpa to us, as well as a father, for several years. He was all the papa little sister Oydal has ever known. O, how we miss him, no one knows except those who have experienced it. Uncle Billies home is, so still and silent now and the vacant chair makes us require the grace of God to say, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." We know he has gone home to God and his loved ones who have gone on before.

The Blessed Book, comforts us with the thoughts. I am the way, the truth and the light. And a husband to the widow, a father to the fatherless, with a sad heart and many tears we gave him up but we shall some day meet him with a glad heart and shouts of joy.

Bad Stomachs Business Failures

In this day of high efficiency more failures are due to disordered Stomachs than to any other cause. Nothing undermines the body and mind so quickly as Stomach Trouble. It saps the energy and reduces ambition and vitality to a slow ebb. Cathartics frequently aggravate the trouble. Overcome quickly your Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Trouble with Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, as it reaches the seat of the disease. Millions have been restored by it. Let one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy convince you today. For sale by Haynes & Taylor. 3

General Business Outlook

Our mining industries continue intensely active, and a tremendous volume of business appears to be practically assured for the balance of the year. Underlying condition provide a sound basis for an optimistic trade outlook. Demand for raw materials is enormous, and there are pronounced evidence that requirement for them will reach extraordinary dimension during the coming months.

Extremely favorable financial exhibits by our banks and local industries furnish strong arguments for taking a bright view of the industrial and business situation. The increase in deposits in the county's banks since April 19th, is over $50,000.00.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theodor's the original and genuine. B 79

CARL VROOMAN PRAISES THE HILLIS SERMONS

Assistant Secretary Hopes All the People Will Read Them.

Hon. Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, is very much interested in the great series of sermons Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis is preparing for this newspaper. One sermon in particular, entitled "Winning a War; Plows Versus Guns," caused him to write the following letter of appreciation:

Department of Agriculture, Washington, May 5, 1917.

I trust that the agricultural press as well as the daily press will be able to help give Dr. Hillis' inspiring message on our present food crisis to all the farmers in the nation. Nothing is more important at the present time than that our farming population as well as our city population should come to realize the extreme nature of our present food crisis. Dr. Hillis with his wonderful powers of thought and expression has a message for the people of this country, and I trust that as many as possible of them will be given a chance to read it and to take it to heart. Very truly yours,

CARL VROOMAN,
Assistant Secretary.

REPUBLIC MOVEMENT

Country At Parting Of Ways.
Alfonso's Opposition Has Spread Everywhere.

London, July 4.—The republican movements in Spain is gaining strength by leaps and bounds. A dispatch printed in the Daily Express today says: Spain finds herself at the parting of the ways. Military incidents occurring recently at Barcelona caused national feeling to mount fever high. Although many arrests have been made by troops guarding everywhere, it is whispered in certain circles, that Alfonso's opposition has spread the Republic movement inwardly. Like the Russian army and working people, the masses are banding themselves together, demanding drastic and widespread reforms. There has been rioting in some quarters.

New York, July 4.—The New York American printed a dispatch to-day purporting to be from high authority in Spain, declaring that King Alfonso has declared himself willing to agree to the establishment of a republic. Alfonso is declared ready to become the first president if it is desired.

Has The Right Ring.

The card from Dr. Threlkeld, who is offering for the democratic nomination for Representative, to be found in another column of this issue, touches a vital chord in the public mind and without quibble, places him on the popular side of the liquor issue, which seems now nearing its final statement. The people will be proud to see the day when they will be permitted to vote on an amendment to the State constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in Kentucky, and the final settlement of the liquor question, taking this issue out of State politics.

Otherwise and aside from the liquor issue, Dr. Threlkeld, stands equally firm in his convictions that men of experience should be chosen to represent the people in the Legislature, for we have learned the sad lesson of extravagance, incompetency and high taxes, when the voters fail to make suitable choice of members of the State's law making body.

As the fiscal affairs of a county are in the hands of the Fiscal Court, so are the State's finances in the hands of the Legislature, to be abused and squandered or economically and judiciously used for the advancement and improvement of the people of the State in the various avenues to which the funds are applied.

Since his trip to this county last week, numbers of democrats have expressed confidence Dr. Threlkeld's ability and willingness to serve this District one term in the Lower House, and there seems to be a genuine feeling in Livingston where he lived for forty years, to honor him with a big vote on August 4th., because he possesses all of the necessary qualifications, a loyal democrat, a progressive citizen and a clever gentleman.

This county Livingstone has no democratic candidate offering for this honor, therefore to make choice of a former good citizen, one who has never asked for office before, would be extending to him a deserved compliment by his former fellow countrymen, as a token of their unwavering faith in his honesty, integrity and life long faithfulness to duty, as a plain and loyal citizen and democrat, now an adopted son of Crittenden in which county he was born and where he lived much of his life.

Ex.

It affords us much pleasure to announce the candidacy of Judge C. S. Nunn for the State Senate from this district, composed of Crittenden, Caldwell and Webster counties.

The upper house of Frankfort should be composed of the best material of the State, not only in intellectual ability, but in honesty, moral courage and all those sterling qualities that go to make a man, for it is more especially the business of the Senate to apply the acid test to all the bills that may be presented for passage. This district has been very fortunate heretofore, in having men of the highest order of ability to represent it in the Senate.

Judge C. S. Nunn is the equal of any, who have preceded him, in natural ability, and his experience renders him eminently qualified to look after the interests of the State and his election would bring credit to this district. Judge Nunn has never been regarded as a factional democrat, and, as he states in his announcement, he will, if nominated, represent the Democratic party; and, when elected, he will represent the interests of all the people. The question of submission of a constitutional amendment, prohibiting the beverage liquor traffic in Kentucky, will be an important one before the next Assembly, and his uniform record in favor of temperance will guarantee that the temperance element shall have a fair show if he is elected.

The enviable record for ability and impartiality won by him, while on the Appellate bench, is an assurance that the rights of all will be respected by him, and his readiness to support every measure for the public welfare is sufficient assurance that he will uphold the hands of our President and Government in every good work.

The country is prosperous. Last month's increase was very large.

Individuals must not lag behind. Keep business going for the country's sake

John Wanamaker.

MILLIONS

Of People--Press, Jurists and Clergy Applaud That Extraordinary Picture

Appraised by Press--Jurists and hundreds of prominent people as "The most powerful weapon with which humanity may crush insidious crime." Read what the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst said:

"Where Are My Children?" is a very powerful and gripping picture drama--I am glad to have witnessed it and am prompt to commend it--it deals with a most difficult matter in a manner of utmost dignity--If the special type of iniquity which it suggests is anywhere near as prevalent as is claimed--the public should have the opportunity to witness the presentation." Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and ears out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

MARRIAGES

The marriage of Miss Zula Cannan and Mr. Harry C. Meyer was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Cannan.

The ring ceremony which was used was performed by Rev. J. B. Trotter in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The house was effectively decorated with ferns, hydrangeas and baskets of sweet peas. In the living room where the ceremony was performed an altar was improvised of ferns and asparagus plumosas.

The musicians, Misses Lucile and Juliet Pope and Miss Miriam Pierce were seated in the reception hall. Before the ceremony several musical numbers were rendered and the bridal party entered to the strain of the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

The guests were received by Miss Mildred Moore. Miss Martha Wilborn and Mr. Harry Damm were the only attendants.

The bride wore an exquisite gown oforgette crepe trimmed in folds of satin and embroidered in seed pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and sweet peas.

The maid of honor wore a blue crepe de chine trimmed in chiffon and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses tied with pink tulle ribbon.

The bride is one of Marion's prettiest and most talented girls and the groom is a well known salesman for The Big Specialty Furniture Co., of Evansville, Ind.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Meyer left for Chicago and other points on Lake Michigan.

The out of town guests were Mr. C. F. Mayer, Miss Frieda Meyer, Mr. Harry Damm, Mr. Jake Durringer all of Evansville, Ind., Miss Annie Downing of Princeton, and Miss Sarah Jackson of Fredonia.

DID MATLACK'S HAND HOLD PEN?

Good Evidence That Clerk Actually "Wrote" Declaration of Independence.

FAMOUS FOR SKILLFUL WORK

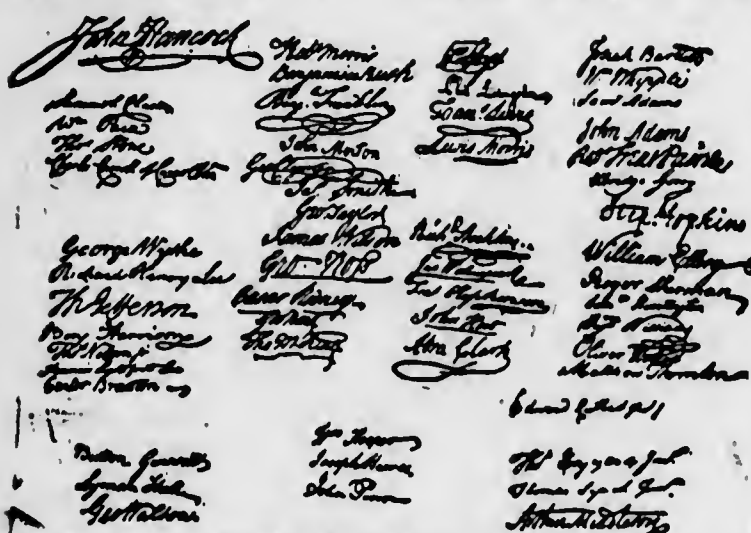

Timothy Matlack, Employed in the Office of Charles Thomson, Secretary in the First Congress, Is Accorded Honor by Expert Who Has Investigated.

WHO wrote the Declaration of Independence? Thomas Jefferson, of course, everyone knows that. But who held the pen and formed the letters on the great piece of parchment that the members of the Continental Congress signed? It is one of the largest official papers in existence—one skin of parchment nearly three feet long and more than two feet wide. The writing is nearly twice the normal size and is unusually handsome and clear.

The secretary who was ordered to promulgate the work was Charles Thomson, a man of high character who had been the principal of a school at New Castle, Del., and an active patriot. The first Congress chose him as secretary in 1774, and he held the office until the Continental Congress passed out of existence in March, 1789. There were 15 presidents of the Continental Congress, but there was only one secretary. He made the entries in the journal in 1774, and he wrote the last entry.

Died at Age of Ninety-Five.

During all those 15 years it was only on rare occasions that any other hand than his wrote in the journal. When the Continental Congress passed out of existence he retired to private life and never held office again; but he did not die until 1824, when he was almost ninety-five years old. One of the clerks in his office in 1775 and 1776, and afterward, in 1780, a member of the Congress from Pennsylvania, survived him by five years. The clerk was Timothy Matlack, who died at Honesburg, Pa., in 1820, when he was ninety-nine years of age.

Timothy Matlack, writes Gaillard Hunt, chief of manuscript division library, in the Yonah's Companion, was a Quaker by birth, but he was an open advocate of fighting, and in 1776 was elected captain of a militia band in Philadelphia, known as the "Shirt-belted." So the Quakers, who were opposed to war, expelled him, and in 1781 he and some others formed the sect known as "Free Quakers." Besides being in the Continental Congress he held a number of important offices under the government of Pennsylvania and Philadelphia. His last service was as alderman of Philadelphia from 1813 to 1819.

Was a Great Penman.

To carry out the order of the Congress that the Declaration be proclaimed, Thomson needed more than a score of copies, for he had to send it to everyone of the states and to the army. So to save time he did not attempt to have any copies written off with the pen, but sent the original drafts, which the Congress had passed, to the official printer, John Dunlap. The following morning the printed copies were in Thomson's hands.

It was from one of those copies that Philadelphia first heard the Declaration read, and it was one of them that became the official copy, for Thomson had not copied the Declaration even into the journal of the Congress before he gave it to the printer; but when he wrote the journal for July 4 he left a blank space for the Declaration, and the next day, with two wafers of red wax, he fastened in the printed broadside. At the time it had been signed only by John Hancock, as president of Congress, and countersigned by Charles Thomson as secretary.

Wrote Washington's Commission. I have said sometimes an entry was made in the journal of the Congress by another hand than Thomson's, writes Mr. Hunt. The first of those occasions was, on June 12, 1775, when Timothy Matlack recorded a resolution to set aside a day for fasting and prayer to avert the devastating calamities that seemed to be impending. Matlack had been appointed a clerk in Thomson's office on May 15, and five days later, on May 20, he wrote out the most important document that the Congress had issued up to that time—the commission to George Washington to be commander in chief of the American army. The identification of the penmanship of the commission with that of the entry in the journal and of both with an autograph letter of Matlack's that is among the papers of the Continental Congress is certain.

Probably there was not at that time a man in the country who was Matlack's equal as a penman. Later Thomson had two clerks in his office, George Bond and Thomas Edison, each of whom wrote a good engrossing hand; so did General Washington's secretary, Richard Varick. Alexander Hamilton wrote a finer hand than any of them, but neither he nor any of the others could equal the beauty of Matlack's capital letters and the clearness and symmetry of his writing as a whole.

Matlack Copied the Declaration. Fortunately, Matlack was still a clerk in Thomson's office when the Declaration of Independence was ordered to be engrossed for final signature, and the task of copying it was assigned to him. He copied from the broadside, "In Congress, July 4, 1776," which is reproduced in the written Declaration in the same form of lettering.

It is not easy to identify the penmanship of a document like the Declaration, for the writer has written very plainly and in characters of twice the normal size, but some individual peculiarities appear in this as in all writing. A few years ago some of the officials in the library of Congress who knew that Matlack was the best penman employed by Thomson under a comparison of General Washington's commission, which was known to have been written by him, with the Declaration.

The first peculiar letter in the commission is the capital "N" in New Hampshire, and we find its counterpart in "Natre's" in the second line of the body of the Declaration. The graceful flourish at the top of the "T" in the word "To" in the commission is repeated in the second of the sentences beginning "That" in the Declaration. In the word "offer" in the commission there is a marked peculiarity in the double "f," the first "f" is made like the old-fashioned long "a." It appears in the word "effect" in the Declaration, then in "suffer" and "sufferable." That is the most noteworthy peculiarity in Matlack's writing. The capital "D" in the commission and in the last line of the Declaration; and the capital "B" in the commission and in the word "British" in the Declaration; the whole word "Congress" in both documents—those and other details established beyond a doubt that the writer of the great Declaration was Timothy Matlack. Although Timothy Matlack lived a long time, he did not live long enough to see the harm that befell the document he had written so handsomely. He and his contemporaries were proud of it, and their descendants have held it in reverence above all other documents; and to satisfy the patriotic curiosity of the people who have wished to see it those who were its custodians in past years subjected it to treatment that did it irreparable injury.

In 1824, when John Quincy Adams was secretary of state, a skilled engraver, William J. Stone, made a copper plate facsimile of the Declaration. That is the only one that has ever been made. It was distributed by order of Congress and is familiar to us all. It is a perfect reproduction in every particular of the original document as it was when the facsimile was made, and is a fine specimen of the engraver's art. Unfortunately at the time he made it photography had not been discovered, and Stone took an impression of the document itself, and in doing so carried off some of the ink.

Signatures Almost Invisible. That was a great injury; but equal harm came to the document by keeping it on exhibition in a strong light. It was in the state department until 1841, when it was placed in the patent office, where it remained until the Centennial exhibition of 1876, when it was taken to Philadelphia. There it remained for nearly a year; then it was returned to Washington and went back to the secretary of state's office.

Already the ink had begun to fade, but the document was again put on exhibition. The ink faded rapidly and by 1894 many of the signatures had become almost invisible. Then there was a formal conference of scientific men, who considered what was the best course to take to protect it. Wise counselors advised that it should not be experimented with, and it was left untouched. It was taken from its place of exhibition, however, and put into a dark safe, secure from further damage from the light. During the last 25 years very few persons have been permitted to look upon its face and the handsome handwriting of Timothy Matlack remains hidden from the world.

SALEM

(delayed from last week.)

Our little town should be proud of the brave and patriotic boys she has produced; as Willie Loyd—who has been in Texas at work for some time—is spending a week with his mother, and has announced that he has joined the U. S. N., and expects to leave next week to serve his country.

Mrs. Clara Brown is spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Farris, relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. H. Richardson's daughter, Mrs. Baker, of near Ceralvo, Ky., who has been visiting her parents at Salem, has returned home.

John Pace and Jim LaRue are being pleasantly visited by their son, grandson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James LaRue, Jr., of Oklahoma.

Several people from here attended the Chautauqua at Marion last week.

Mr. McDaniel, wife and children attended the Southern Harmony singing at Union Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Rappolee are the honored host and hostess of little Miss Christine Charles Rappolee at present.

Miss Nella Baker is spending a few days at the home of Dr. J. V. Hayden.

Miss Corine Graves, who has been away attending college, has returned to her home to spend her summer vacation.

Mrs. Raymond Babb, son and daughters spent Sunday at the home of J. H. Price.

Miss Katherine Graesham, of this place, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Press Guess, of Marion, and attending the Chautauqua.

Mrs. Dr. F. M. Matlock is visiting for a few days in Smithland.

Mrs. Julia Hudson spent Saturday and Sunday in Salem.

CONVENTION AT BLACKBURN

Interesting Singing Meets Next At Shady Grove Sunday July 29th.

It was the good fortune of the writer to be permitted to attend a singing convention at the Blackburn church on Sunday, June 24th.

Those who love songs, sociality and something good to eat will never know what they missed by not being there.

The meeting was under the control of Prof. G. W. Travis, who is recognized all over this and adjoining counties, as one of the greatest of song lovers, as well as an excellent singer and proficient teacher of vocal music. Prof. Travis has been teaching singing schools for more than twenty years. He also, teaches instrumental music and voice successfully. Mr. Travis recognizes the fact that no community organization is complete without its community singing, so he is doing all he can to re-establish this important factor which has been almost lost from the "good old times." There were five or six full choirs at this meeting, besides singers and song lovers, young girls and their lovers, curiosity seekers, idle spectators, by standers, others with no object at all in view, old folks, young folks, men, women, children, and babies galore, in all about fifteen hundred people besides horses and buggies and automobiles. We sang and ate dinner on the ground, drank water and melted, the day was hot.

As on the fifth Sunday in July, we have our next singing convention at the beautiful little tri-county center, Shady Grove. Now, if you miss this one it is your fault because I have told you where and when it is to be. All lovers of song, sociality, chin music; curiosity seekers, by standers, idlers and all will find this a good place to be on that day. The Shady Grove choir extended to us a cordial invitation, singers, choirs, candidate and all, but said bring your diners. I am going. Won't you come along too?

Signed,

Spec'ator, Singer, Candidate.

Caesar Rodney's Ride

By Richard J. Beamish

HOW the historians and romantics have missed the true and dramatic story of Caesar Rodney's ride is one of the mysteries which surround the Declaration of Independence.

Pennsylvania and South Carolina had voted against independence. New York held aloof because her delegates had not received instructions from the assembly. Congress was in turmoil, the army panic-stricken, the sentiment for submission to Great Britain growing hourly in all the colonies. It was necessary that all the colonies should vote in the affirmative if independence was to be proclaimed, as the defection of anyone in the federation would mean division and inevitable defeat.

In the vote that was taken in the State House (now Independence Hall) on July 1, Delaware's vote was not cast, there being but two of the three delegates present. Thomas McKean voted for freedom, and George Read against it. Caesar Rodney was ill at his home with a cancer that had attacked his face to such an extent that he was compelled to wear a veil to conceal the fearful ravages of the disease.

McKean shrewdly calculating that if Delaware's vote was cast for independence on the following day, Pennsylvania and South Carolina might be induced to change their votes, sent a horseman to Rodney and arranged relays of horses to bring the sick man to Philadelphia.

In spite of the terrific heat, the urging of relatives and the commands of a nurse and physician, who warned him that the ride might mean his death, the patriotic Delawarean set out for Philadelphia. There with his remaining strength Rodney cast the vote of Delaware for American independence. Edward Rutledge of South Carolina thereupon was deeply moved and changed the vote of his colony. After a stormy scene the Pennsylvania delegates opposed to independence left the chamber, and the patriotic faction, with Franklin at its head, promptly cast the colony's vote for freedom.

Rodney rallied from the strain of his ride and died at Hylfield a few years later in his forty-sixth year.

TEACHERS, tell us of Rodney, Rodney of Delaware! Some of you start and shudder. Others stand mute and stare. Put up your arms and fall. Listen that you may hear The gallop of Caesar Rodney with death always riding near.

Heat, like a thick, black blanket, closely on Hylfield lay. It hurried the flesh and spirit of him who waited for day.

His fevered eyes watched the candle that blinked like a far-off star. They looked from a face upon which all the grace was hid by a cruel scar.

Out of the heat and blackness clamored a-trooping cans. Barking of dogs and a thunder of knicks on a door's stout frame. Sternly a nurse hissed, "Silence!" and then came a stranger's call. "McKean bids you ride. I will be at your side. Come quickly or freedom will fail."

"He'll die on the way," shrieked a servant, but Rodney was out of his bed. "Boots, horses and spurs!" he commanded, "and the veiling to cover my head."

"Horses are posted to meet you," the voice in the doorway said. "It is well, I am ready." The weak voice was steady. "I will vote or you'll bear me there dead."

It's seventy miles to the State House in the city of William Penn.

Seventy miles of torture, to forward the freedom of men. For some in the Congress were Tories and others too timid to dare. So Rodney must ride that his vote might decide the ballot of Delaware.

Neck by neck through old Dover they galloped, and Rodney bent low to his task. It was gray in the East when he hurried to cover his face with the mask. A woman screamed loud at the vision, but Rodney was riding again. Though, beneath him, the back of his horse was a rack to torture the bravest of men.

Great weariness came upon Rodney. He galloped as one in a dream. But lightning-like pains broke his trances as rocks break a mountain stream. Somewhere, in the misty morning, his comrade faltered and fell. There rode at his side, with a long silent stride, a Slave that Rodney knew well.

The tropical heat-haze closed round him, the veiled and the wrath at his side. At Inns and by-lanes he changed horses, then, on with the furious ride. Weakness at last made him falter. He fell and then slumbered awhile. But the will was so strong that the rest was not long, for the goal still lay many a mile.

And then he came into the city, the half-Tory town of Penn.

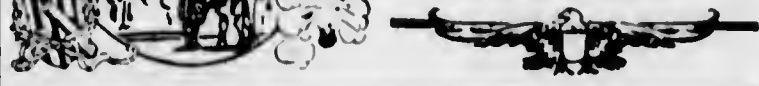

Down Passyunk Road he galloped, past wondering women and men. His veil streamed, a pennon of Freedom, and his limbs hung like bags of seed. But the horse he bestrode knew the turn of the road and needed no guiding hand.

So to the State House came Rodney, merely the shell of a man. There McKean met and bore him as gently as only a sturdy friend can.

Steadied him in the chamber, and glared to hear him declare: "For the right to be free, and to end tyranny, we vote aye, for our Delaware."

You know the rest of the story, you teachers who teach by rote. How prudent South Carolina announced the change of its vote; How Pennsylvania also veered round in Freedom's gale; How the Thirteen broke from their necks the yoke, and a nation came through travail.

Paint us a noble portrait; Story or Sargent or Chase. One of the missing Signer. Show us an eager face. Glorified through its veiling, and we will uplift it where He ended his ride with Death by his side, brave Rodney of Delaware.

Proper Celebration of Anniversary of the Nation's Birth

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

THIS wrote Thomas Jefferson for the Continental congress in the famous Declaration of Independence. It was signed at Independence hall, Philadelphia, July 4, 1776. With the penning of old Liberty bell that summer day the birth of a new nation was announced. Like her sturdy sons, that nation was conceived in hardship. Her heritage of devotion to principle was the noblest gift brought by the Mayflower. Innate courage grew fearless in the face of constant danger, and her sons grew skillful by constant toil. They craved not courtier favors but demanded the right to develop along the lines of a new democracy the nation then born. Contact with the wilderness had taught them that—

"As easy to be heroes as to sit the idle throne.
Of legendary virtue carved upon our fathers' graves."

For them to be convinced was as though the thing had been decreed of God. They were convinced and they proclaimed their birthright by declaring their independence and then fighting for it against one of the proudest, strongest nations of the earth.

Nation Wholly Worthy.

It was inevitable that such a beginning should produce a nation of stalwarts. What they lacked in knightliness they made up in manliness. Devotion to principle left no room for compromise with policy. The result was a people chosen by fitness for great place in the economy of the world's progress.

At this season we celebrate the anniversary of the nation's birth. The 140 anniversaries since then have not all been to our credit. We have turned from the serious to the frivolous, the national birthday has become a carnival. In the name of patriotism all kinds of follies have been permitted. Instead of real honor to the nation the day has been made an occasion for gain. People have made for themselves hardship in a vain attempt to have more noise than their neighbors make.

Fitting Celebrations.

But we rejoice in the change to be noticed in the way of observing the nation's birthday. People are beginning to see that noise is not patriotic and that the youth of the present need a better ideal of Independence day. In most of the large cities men of prominence and foresight are arranging for public games. What could be more fitting for the nation's birthday? We should be a nation of athletes; there is no day better than July 4 for arousing the latent strength of manhood or exhibiting what is already developed. Surely the parks should ring with the best music our hands can produce. Men gifted with power to sway the multitudes should this day tell what the nation stands for and pay tribute to those who are—

Slow to smite and swift to spare,
Gentle and merciful and just;
Who, in the fear of God, do bear
The sword of power, a nation's trust.

Today we are in need of a patriotism as great as that of '76. The occasion is different and the problem requires greater wisdom in its solution. It is a satisfaction to remember that the national sword has never been lifted in conquest. The glory of the starry flag is that she is an emblem of freedom of conscience, religion and civil liberty. Except in the cause of humanity she has never been in battle. Not all that has been done under her is worthy of praise, but it is safe to say that few nations have a more unselfish record.

Drives Out Malaria, Builds Up System
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHERRY TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children, 50c.

Prayer of His Holiness Pope Benedict XV. For Peace.

(Official Translation.)

Dismayed by the horrors of a war which is bringing ruin to peoples and nations, we turn, O Jesus, to Thy most loving Heart as to our last hope, O God of Mercy, with tears we invoke Thee to end this fearful scourge, O King of Peace, we humbly implore the peace for which we long. From Thy Sacred Heart Thou didst shed forth over the world divine charity, so that discord might end and love alone might reign among men. During Thy life on earth Thy Heart beat with tender compassion for the sorrows of men; in this hour made terrible with burning hate, with bloodshed and with slaughter, once more may Thy divine Heart be moved with pity. Pity the countless mothers in anguish for the fate of their sons; pity the numberless families now bereaved of their fathers; pity Europe over which broods such havoc and disaster. Do Thou inspire rulers and peoples with counsels of meekness, do Thou heal the discords that tear the nations asunder; Thou who didst shed Thy Precious Blood that they might live as brothers, bring them together once more in loving harmony. And as once before to the cry of the Apostle Peter, "Save us, Lord, we perish," Thou didst answer with words of mercy and didst still the raging waters, so now deign to hear our trustful prayer, and give back to the world peace and tranquility.

And do thou, O most holy Virgin, as in other times of sore distress, be now our help, our protection, and our safeguard. Amen.—The Record.

AS WE GROW OLD

The Kidneys Should Receive Help.
Marion People Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

The constant strain of life is hard on the kidneys, and in later years

The kidneys call for help. Old backs often ache, day in, day out;

Urinary ills frequently add their weight of woe.

Give the help the kidneys need. Aid the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Merion people endorse this remedy. T. C. Guess, E. Depot St., Marion, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy for kidney weakness. For a long time I have been subject to backaches and at these times, my back is stiff and sore. The kidney secretions pass too frequently so that I can hardly get any sleep at night. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, never fail to give me relief and I wouldn't be without them. I think they are a fine medicine for old people."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Guess, used. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

EXPORT COUNCIL PLANNING POLICY

NEW EXPORT COUNCIL, SELECTED BY PRESIDENT, TAKES HOLD OF OPERATIONS.

LICENSE SYSTEM PROBABLE

Recommend a Series of Presidential Proclamations, Putting Council Into Full Operation—Special Division For Licenses.

Washington.—A general export policy to be pursued by the United States was taken up at the first meeting of the new exports council created by President Wilson to advise him as to operation of the export control act.

No announcement was made after the conference, but it was learned the council will recommend immediately a series of presidential proclamations putting the measure into actual operation. Dr. Edward E. Pratt, chief of the commerce department's bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, which will do the administration work, has begun the organization of a special division of export licenses. The division, it was said, will be formed within a few days in time to proceed with them upon the issuing of the first proclamation. C. A. Richards, a New York ship man, it is understood, probably will head the new division.

The first proclamation probably will put under the licensing system coal and fuel, including bunkers. This virtually will give the government power to direct the movement of every vessel entering an American port. Ships will be kept in the trades which the government deems are most necessary in successfully waging the war.

Wheat and wheat products probably will be the next commodities whose shipments must be licensed. The world food situation, government experts declare, demands immediate control of food exports. The practical rationing of the European neutral countries, now to be undertaken by the United States, will be accomplished by licensing food shipments. Goods now going to Germany from Scandinavian countries, including large quantities of iron ore, probably will be directed to the allies by refusing licenses for food shipments to these countries if they continue to ship their own products to the enemy.

BRITISH DEFEAT GERMANS

Three Naval Aeronauts Vanquish Ten Germans in Airplane Fight in Flanders.

London.—Three British naval aviators fought a recent battle with ten German machines over Flanders. An official account of the fight says one and probably three of the Germans were driven down. All of the British airmen returned safely.

The announcement follows:

"In the course of a patrol in Flanders three naval airplanes encountered and engaged the enemy machines in the vicinity of Roulers. They fought for 15 minutes and brought down one enemy in flames. It is believed two others were driven down out of control, but clouds interrupted the view. Our machines returned safely."

CANADIANS TAKE OUTPOSTS

Signal Success Comes to British Arms in Pressure on Lens' Strongest Outpost.

Canadian Army Headquarters in France.—In their general advance on Lens, the Canadians have occupied the strongest outpost in the defense of that place, and have pushed their troops toward La Coulotte. The increasing pressure on the enemy in the Souchez valley during the last few weeks has brought signal success to British arms with relatively slight losses. Patrols which were sent out reached the summit of Reservoir hill without opposition, and pushed on down the eastern slope, and the strong Lens outpost was effectively occupied.

Meanwhile, south of the Souchez river the Canadians drove forward on the heels of the retreating Germans. Railway embankments east of Lens electric station were occupied. The advance was then continued toward La Coulotte.

Elerts Ador to Swiss Office.

Berne, Switzerland.—Gustave Ador was elected a member of the federal council to succeed Dr. Hoffman, who recently resigned because of his connection with the effort to arrange a separate peace between Germany and Russia.

Great Tonnage Is Idle.

Boston.—Despite the entente allies' acute need of ships arising from the submarine menace, more than 1,000,000 tons of neutral shipping is swinging idly at anchor in the harbors of belligerent nations.

Stackers in California.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Warrants for the arrest of 103 persons charged with failure to register June 5 for the selective draft, were issued here by D. M. Hammock, United States commissioner.

"CABIRIA"

He is not an African.

Did you see Cabiria? If you missed that masterpiece, you have certainly heard about it, and of course you know about the wonderful "giant in that great film. His work was so unusual that he became the star of the greatest of all photoplays, even though the part was not originally considered a star part.

And now you can see this "wonder man again. No, he is not a colored giant from Africa—he is a white gentleman.

"Maciste" was his name in "Cabiria" and now and forevermore he will probably be known as "Maciste". The new feature film in which this "super-man" has been starred, was written especially for him and it is a wonder work of amazing acts, tantalizing thrills and stirring struggles. Maciste fights with scores of men and seems to enjoy the battles.

The most remarkable thing about this very unusual film is the fact that it is both comedy and tense exciting drama. There is an element of mystery which holds and the action moves with a speed that will bring you to the edge of your seat.

Your Country Needs Your Help

Come out Saturday July 7, 1917 and tell you Country what your resources are and your Country can help you.

It is absolutely necessary for you to come to your voting place and register your crops and live stock on the above date. This is no time for slackers or idlers in any part of the great machinery of our government. Every human is a part of the machinery that moves this country and when one fails to do his part it is like a broken cog in the wheel it interferes with the action of the machine.

Our Country is facing the greatest problems that ever confronted her and these problems must be solved by the people.

There is work for all and the ones who fail to do their part of the work are in the way of the ones who want to do theirs.

We have got the world to feed; must feed our own first. Our resources must be fed and fed well. They are fighting for us and the best is none too good for them. There are now fifty thousand of our boys in France fighting our battles and in a short time there will be many more thousands there. It may be your boy, it may be my boy and these boys must be cared for.

The Agricultural department of our government has asked for this census in order that the officials in Washington may know our resources. In this way only can they tell how much food can be shipped out of this country and have enough left to feed the people at home. Never in the history of this country was food so scarce, or so high. Food shipments will be in the hands of the food commission and they must know approximately what we have or they will not know how much can be shipped away and have enough to feed the people at home.

We appeal to the patriotism, to the manhood, and to all that is good and holy in every man in this county to do all that he can to help in this time of need. To the women God bless them we appeal for help. We must deny our selves many things if we do our duty toward our country. Let's begin now that we may be saved many hard ships that our allies have had to undergo in Europe. May God for bid that our women will have to take the place of the men in the fields, to produce food.

All women do not have to come their voting places on July 7, as has been reported, but women who are farming on their own account, as widow women who run their own farms, are expected to come and give their census just as the men do theirs.

Interesting Letter

From Guy Ordway

Ft. Snelling, Minn., June 28, 1917.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Kind Sir:

Will you please change my address which was Hdqrs., Co., 36 U. S. Inf., Fort Clark, Texas, to Hdqrs., Co., 36 U. S. Inf., Ft. Snelling, Minn. I have made the following moves since called from the reserve last August: was called to report to Ft. Logan H. Roots, Little Rock, Ark.; from there was sent to Brownsville, Texas, assigned to the 36 U. S. Infantry, where there was in a great field maneuver of the lower Rio Grand valley, where 33,000 soldiers participated; was at Sanbueno, Tex.; Harlingen, Tex.; back to Brownsville, Texas; from there we moved to Ft. Clark, Texas, one of the oldest forts of the United States, and hottest place on earth, was at Ft. Clark three months, and sent here arriving here the 9th of this month.

The 36th Infantry is organizing two of the new regiments being made are the 10th and 41st Infantry, now it will be only a short time until the three regiments will be to full war strength for men are enlisting very fast, though not as fast as they should while our country is in such need, and I can't see why Crittenden county with so many fine, young and robust men and many without regular employment; all fine riflemen, should be so short in furnishing soldiers for the defense of our country, our homes the happiest and best place on earth.

I will soon be on my fifth year of active service in the army, a greater part of that being on the Mexican border. Peachie, Velma and Velda are getting along fine. Our twin girls are sure fine babies. They have won us much acquaintance and friendship wherever we have been, for everybody must see the twins.

Hoping the Record-Press—our great standby—will continue to follow me up. Thanking you for the great favors of the past and future.

I am yours gratefully,
GUY ORDWAY,
Hdqs., Co., 36 U. S. Infantry,
